GOULD'S FIRST GAME HERE SATURDAY

On Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock Gould Academy's 1942 baseball team will open with Gorham, N. H., High as opponent. The local boys got outdoors for the first time Wednesday when they played an intra-squad practice session.

The team this year has many new faces in the starting lineup. Berry, Robertson, and Coolidge are infield veterans and Amato in the outfield played last year. The others, including the battery, are all green material. Not too much can be expected of the team under the circumstances. They however are showing great interest and may develop into a first rate outfit. Coach Myers is again the helm, assisted by Howie Chivers.

Coach Myers announces the following lineup for Saturday: Young, Coolidge, Robertson, and Berry around the horn and Adams, Morton, and Amato in the outfield. Wright is scheduled to start behind the bat and McInnis is slated for the opening assignment on the mound.

The visitors will come with a strong team as Gorham is a real baseball town and are represented always by a classy club. Gorham has the advantage over the locals that they have a veteran flinger in Lefty Martel, who has plenty of stuff on the ball, control, and good baseball sense.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert I. Bean announce the engagement of their daughter, Muriel Edwina, to Rodney Warren Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde O. Brooks of Bethel.

Miss Bean is to graduate from Gould Academy this spring. Mr. Brooks attended the Bethel schools and is employed at the mill of H. F. Thurston & Son.

A WEEK of The WAR

War Production Chairman Nelson, speaking in New York City, said the United Nations have now outstripped the Axis in war production. Because of the accumulated reserves of the enemy, however, "we have not yet won the battle of production," he said. Vice President Wallace said by July of this year the U. S. will be producing more war materiel than any other nation in the history of the world.

Manpower Mobilization

Federal Security Administrator McNutt was made Chairman of a nine-man War Manpower Commission set up by the President to "bring about the most effective mobilization and the maximum use of the nation's manpower." Mr. McNutt said the Commission will establish a labor priorities system to allocate manpower on a voluntary basis. If this system fails, he said he would ask for authority to assign men and women to specific jobs. He reported an additional 10 million workers will be needed in war production this year, many of whom will have to be obtained through recruiting of women, young people and retired workers.

The War Front

War Secretary Stimson told a press conference the U. S. Army is almost ready for the offensive. Army Communiqués reported 13 Australian-based American bombers, in a 4,000 mile round-trip raid on Japanese installations in the Philippines, sank four enemy ships, damaged four others and caused widespread damage. The Army and Navy withheld comment on reports that American bombers had raided Tokyo, Yokohama, Kobe and other Japanese cities and inflicted extensive property damage.

Gen. MacArthur named the members of his staff assisting him as head of the United Nations Southwest Pacific Command. Gen. Wainwright said Corregidor Island could and would hold out. He said an estimated 50,000 American and Filipino combatant and non-combatant troops on Bataan are now

In the hands of the enemy. Eight United Nations ships were reported sunk by enemy submarines in the Atlantic.

Foreign Relations

The White House reported Lend-Lease aid amounted to more than $3 billion by the end of March. War supplies sent to Russia in March were two and a half times as great as those sent in February. President Roosevelt notified Ambassador to Vichy Leahy to return to this country for instructions, because of the domination of the new government of France by the pro-German Laval. The State Department said three American ships scheduled to carry food and clothing to France and North Africa are being held here pending clarification of the Vichy situation.

Army and Selective Service

The War Department said organization of 32 new divisions this year is being carried out on schedule. The Department said the Army Medical Corps strength will be doubled to meet demands of the expanded Army. Physicians under 45 years and dentists under 35 will be eligible for commissions as first lieutenants. The Department also announced formation of a new combat force, the Tank Destroyer Command, which will begin training in Texas early this summer.

The Department said it will grant furloughs of 10 days to inductees after their processing at reception centers, if local boards recommend such action for men who need the time to clear up personal affairs.

Selective Service Director Hershey said the supply of men classified as 1-A probably will be exhausted by the end of summer and the calling of men of 1-B classification probably will start in the fall.

Navy and Air

The Navy Department said the Bureau of Yards and Docks will act as contracting agency for the Department for all construction accomplished by private agencies, including works subcontracted under a prime contractor. Two new destroyers were launched and a third was commissioned. The President directed Navy Secretary Knox to take over three plants of the Brewster Aeronautical Corp. in order to increase their production.

President Roosevelt and Canadian Prime Minister King announced jointly that all United Nations with air training programs under way in the U. S. or Canada will confer in Ottawa early in May on "further united military efforts."

Shipping

The War Shipping Administration requisitioned all the remaining American-owned ocean-going vessels which had not been taken over by the Government previously. Every detail of operation—cargoes,

YOUR CAR

How to Get the MOST out of It

MORE TIPS ON DRIVING

Your car was built to "take it." Even so, it thrives best on kind treatment. Tests indicate the following driving techniques prolong the useful life of a car:

Don't give the engine more gas than it can digest.

Don't accelerate too rapidly.

Frequently, the only result of an extra burst of speed is extra pressure on the brakes a moment later.

Don't drive fast unless you're really in a hurry—and even then stop to think if the time saved will be worth the extra wear on tires and motor, the extra cost of gas and the increased chance of accident.

Slow down before entering a curve. Then accelerate, but not too much. Your tires don't have to "squeal" to be unhappy on a curve.

Slow down on rough roads. Your springs may be able to take it, but your tires can't.

Don't stage a climbing test on every hill. Your gears are there for a purpose.

Don't coast downhill. It's poor economy. The cost of wear on brake linings is likely to exceed greatly the amount saved in gasoline.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

THE ILLUSION OF DEPTH

The illusion of depth is very important to a landscape picture. You can achieve this effect in your pictures by observing a few simple rules.

DO YOU want to get a feeling of great depth in your pictures? Do you want, when picturing landscapes, to give the impression of vast distance? It's not at all hard to do—if you use a little common sense in choosing an appropriate camera position, watch the foreground, and work with the light instead of against it.

Take this week's illustration, for instance. As landscapes go, it's not bad. In fact it conveys the illusion of depth to an unusual degree—but not by chance. The photographer, I dare say, planned it so. In the first place, you'll note that instead of taking a picture when the lake was devoid of life he waited until a canoe passed through the foreground. Or perhaps, he "planted" it there. Regardless, the appearance of the canoe in the foreground immediately accomplished two things: it added human interest to the picture, and gave us a basis of comparison for the other objects in the scene.

Not content with that, however, the photographer very carefully chose a point of view behind some low hanging trees so that a few branches hung down from above, and thus added another plane to the scene. In other words, he gave us something familiar and very near to look at, and also something distant to see. Fortunately, too, there are three tones or planes in the distant shore, and mountain beyond, which further emphasize the illusion of depth.

And there, in a nutshell, is the secret of getting a feeling of depth in your pictures. Make sure that some familiar object—such as a tree, a barn, a house, a horse, a canoe, etc.—is included in the foreground of your picture, along with "human interest" when possible.

Here's one further tip which isn't illustrated by the picture, but which is important just the same. Watch for sidelighting. Objects and scenes which are pictured when the sun is shining upon them from the side appear to have a greater feeling of roundness and depth than those pictured with flat illumination.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

National and International Problems Inescapable from Local Warfare

"When the history of War II is written, that page belonging to the indomitable Dutch should be illuminated with the blood of heroes. For a thousand years, free men should stand and uncover whenever the Battle of Java is mentioned. They never had a chance, those Dutchmen, but they freely gave their lives in the hope that others might have a chance."

These were the opening lines of a recent dispatch from Melbourne filed by "Time" correspondent Robert Sherod. What the Dutch did in Java, other United Nations troops—English, Australian, Chinese—have done in many theatres of war. They fought against impossible odds—but they never gave up fighting. They faced an enemy who possessed sickening superiority in men, guns, planes, ships—and they faced him without flinching. Even today, Dutch guerrillas are harrying the Japs in Java, precisely as in the Balkans guerrilla bands who have disavowed their puppet governments are harrying the legions of Hitler.

These are the kinds of troops of which great victorious armies are made. These troops lost their battles simply because they did not have the incredible amount of equipment that modern war demands. There were never enough planes, never enough anti-aircraft guns, never enough ships-of-war. Courage could not do the impossible.

The terrible series of disasters in the Pacific would have dismayed peoples who were less grimly determined on eventual victory. But correspondents universally report the highest of morale in the international army which has been placed under General MacArthur's command. The dramatic appearance of MacArthur in Australia brought new hope to all the United Nations. And great cause for hope and certainty of victory is found in American war production. The precise statistics cannot, of course, be printed. What can be told is that the instruments of war are really rolling out of the factories now—and that signal progress is being made in the production of ships to carry them to the battlefronts.

In the meantime, our strategy in the Pacific is clear. MacArthur's job is to hold Australia until many months from now—he will have the equipment and the trained troops and the planes which will make a great counter-offensive possible. Today, Australia is the seat of destiny. It must not be lost.

The AEF in Australia has found it populated by a people very much like Americans. In size, it is a gigantic country, with great extremes of topography and climate. In population, it is small—7,000,000. It is bisected by a vast desert, which forms a natural defensive barrier. Its Anzac troops are among the finest in the world. Today many thousands of Australians undoubtedly feel a closer kinship with America than with England. It is a significant commentary on the Australian outlook that its government asked President Roosevelt to send MacArthur, an American General, to take supreme command.

MacArthur's first words on reaching Australia indicate the temper of his thinking. "I came through. I will return." Those who know him say that he will not remain on the defensive an hour longer than is necessary. He is a brilliant advocate of offensive war. His plan is to strike hard and mercilessly at the enemy. Those generals who placed their faith in defensive strategy have disappeared into the limbo of defeat. It took us a long time to learn what Hitler's commanders understand so well—victory belongs to the daring.

In the interim before the major counter-offensive is launched, we may be certain that the American Navy and Air Force, working with other United Nations forces, will give a good account of themselves. The submarine fleet has taken a heavy toll of Jap warships and supply ships. Some important blows have been struck by American bombers. The enemy is being bled. Whenever we have had anything approaching equality in numbers and equipment we have won the engagements.

A short time ago, Chiang Kai Chek told a group of officers that he would entertain them one day in Tokyo. The United Nations mean to take this war straight home to the enemy—with a vengeance.

MONDAY REGISTRATION INCLUDES ONLY NINE SIMPLE QUESTIONS

Only nine simple questions will be asked those men beyond the military ages who register on April 27, for classification as to their skills and aptitudes for war production activities, Gen. James W. Hanson, State Director of Selective Service for Maine, emphasized today.

Every male citizen of the United States, and every other male person residing in Continental United States, or in the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii, or in Puerto Rico, other than persons specifically exempted by law, born on or after April 28, 1877, and on or before Feb. 16, 1897, who have not heretofore been registered under the Act, must register.

Director Hanson pointed out that those who register on April 27 are not liable for military service under the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended. They will be required later to fill out an occupational questionnaire concerning their civilian qualifications and skills, but that is for the purpose of obtaining information only.

When registered, each registrant must answer, according to Director Hanson, the following nine questions: (1) Name of Registrant; (2) Place of Residence; (3) Mailing Address if other than Place of Residence; (4) Telephone; (5) Age in Years and Date of Birth; (6) Place of Birth; (7) Name and Address of Person who will always know your Address; (8) Employer's Name and Address, and (9) Place of Employment or Business.

After a registrant has answered all questions and signed his name to the registration card, he will be given a registration certificate signed by the registrar. This certificate must be in personal possession of the registrant at all times. Director Hanson warned. Failure to possess the certificate, or to show it to authorized persons, constitutes a violation of Selective Service Regulations and is considered prima facie evidence of failure to register, Director Hanson said.

PETROLEUM AND PRODUCTS MADE UP ONE THIRD OF ALL U. S. WATERBORNE TRANSPORTATION

One-third of all foreign and domestic waterborne trade of the United States in 1940 was crude petroleum and petroleum products, a report of the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors reveals.

Total shipments of all products by water to and from, and within the United States, amounted to 607,900,000 tons, of which petroleum accounted for 200,477,000 tons, the report shows. The greatest movement of petroleum was in coastwise shipments which totaled 114,640,000 tons or three-fourths of the total 155,929,000 tons of all products. Sixty-five per cent of all crude oil, 55 per cent of the gasoline, and 50 per cent of the fuel and bunker oil, were shipped in the coastwise trade.

Crude petroleum accounted for one-third of the total petroleum movement by water. The shipments of 67,113,000 tons, equivalent approximately to 475,000,000 barrels, would indicate that more than one-third of all crude petroleum produced in 1940 was transported by water at some point in the movement from the well to the refinery.

Kidneys Must Work Well-

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood. If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly. Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling. Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to flush out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

Respectfully Represents, Florence E. Hewey resident at Bethel in the County of Oxford and State of Maine that she was lawfully married to Ellery B. Hewey, formerly of Holden in the County of Penobscot and State of Maine, but now of parts unknown, at Milo in the County of Piscataquis and State of Maine on the 23rd day of December A. D. 1918, by a clergyman, then and there duly authorized to solemnize marriages therein; That the Libellant and Libellee cohabited in this State after their said marriage;

That the Libellant resided in this State when the cause of divorce accrued as hereinafter set forth; That the Libellant has resided in this State in good faith for one year prior to the commencement of these proceedings;

That the Libellant has ever been faithful to her marriage obligations, but that the said Libellee has been unfaithful of the same; That there is no collusion between your Libellant and the said Libellee to obtain a divorce;

That on the 25th day of April A. D. 1937, said Libellee utterly deserted your Libellant without reasonable cause and has continued said desertion for three consecutive years next prior to the filing of this libel;

That three children have been born to them during their said marriage, of whom three are now living, viz.: Cora M. Hewey, age 16; Lawrence E. Hewey, age 13; Vivian M. Hewey, age 9.

Wherefore, your Libellant prays that a divorce from the bonds of matrimony between herself and the said Libellee may be decreed; and that the care and custody of their minor children, Cora M. Hewey, Lawrence E. Hewey and Vivian M. Hewey may be given to said Libellant;

And your Libellant further alleges that the residence of said Libellee is unknown to your Libellant and cannot be ascertained by reasonable diligence.

Dated at Bethel, Maine, this Eleventh day of April, A. D. 1942.
